I. Background and Methodology

This report documents the death toll of victims whose deaths were documented by Syrian Network for Human Rights (SNHR) as taking place at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria in October 2022. The report sheds light particularly on victims who died due to torture, and victims among medical personnel. Further, the report highlights the massacres committed by the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces.

We should note that, in this context, we use the term 'massacre' to refer to any attack that resulted in the deaths of five or more peaceful individuals in the same incident. The report also includes an outline of the most notable incidents during this month. Finally, we maintain the full details of every incident in our database.

Documenting deaths in Syria has been one of the most important roles performed by SNHR since March 2011. This is all the more crucial since murder is the most prevalent of all the violations perpetrated, and the one which most profoundly affects the Syrian people, with countless families suffering incalculable and irreparable trauma through the loss of fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, friends, etc.

These violations have become so widespread primarily due to the systematic killing of civilians by Syrian regime forces and their affiliated militias. Between March 2011, and the beginning of 2012, Syrian regime forces were responsible for the overwhelming majority of deaths. The Syrian regime began by using tanks and artillery, then proceeded to also use warplanes and helicopter gunships which were used in the deployment of barrel bombs, in addition to ballistic missiles and chemical weapons.

The emergence of several other parties during the Syrian conflict has further increased both the importance and complexity of documenting the victims killed in Syria.

The killing of civilians in Syria has continued for the eleventh consecutive year, as it has done continuously since the initial outbreak of the popular uprising for democracy in Syria in March 2011, resulting in casualty numbers that are among the largest worldwide; this underlines the fact that Syria is still the most dangerous nation in the world for civilians, and remains an exceptionally insecure and perilous environment wholly unsuitable for the return of refugees.

This report catalogues the death toll of victims at the hands of the active parties to the Syrian conflict. It should be noted that accurately ascribing responsibility sometimes requires more time and investigation than usual, especially in the case of joint attacks. We also face additional challenges in assigning responsibility for attacks in some incidents of land bombardment, especially those in which the bombardment originates from an adjacent area that is controlled by a different party. In such cases, SNHR tries to thoroughly investigate the incident, in order to conclusively identify the party responsible for the bombardment.

Despite this, however, there are cases in which we are unable to definitively assign responsibility for a particular killing to one of two possible parties because of the area's proximity to the lines of engagement, the use of similar weapons, or other reasons. In such cases, the incident is classified within the category 'other parties' until such time as we have gathered sufficient evidence to conclusively assign responsibility for the violation to one of the two parties.

The parties to the conflict documented by SNHR as having as committed extrajudicial killings are:

1. The main parties:

- Syrian regime forces (army, security, local militias, and Shiite foreign militias<sup>1</sup>)
- ISIS
- Hay'at Tahrir al-Sham (HTS)
- Armed Opposition
- Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF)

2. Other parties

While we at the SNHR are keen to accurately attribute incidents to the responsible parties, we exclude two types of attacks from the process of assigning responsibility, namely anti-personnel landmines, and remote explosions, including suicide or forced suicide attacks. We discussed this issue previously in detailed reports.

As for the anonymous victims whose names we haven't yet been able to determine or on whom we have so far been unable to find any identifying information or any picture or video footage, these cases are catalogued in a private archive until any information indicating those victims' identity has been found which would enable their cases to be transferred to the victims' archive, with their names and other details registered accordingly.

Through use of SNHR's extensive database, we can catalogue the victims according to the governorate where they were killed, and also by their governorate of origin. However, we choose in our monthly report to document the death toll of victims according to the governorate in which they were killed, rather than by their place of origin.

In this report, we record only the death toll of civilians whose deaths we were able to document during the last month. SNHR does not document the deaths of fighters and militants killed during the conflict, and while some of the victims documented may have been killed months or even years ago, as in some cases of death due to torture; in these cases, where the deaths have only recently been confirmed, we include two dates, the date when we were able to document the victim's death, and the date on which we think the death occurred.

The methodology adopted by the Syrian Network for Human Rights in documenting the victims can be found at this link<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> We generally use the term 'the Syrian regime' rather than 'the Syrian government', because the nature of the ruling power in Syria is a totalitarian dictatorship based on ruling the nation in an authoritarian fashion through a very limited group of individuals, primarily the President of the Republic and his selected leaders of the security services, while the ministers, including the Prime Minister and the Minister of Interior, play a restricted, largely ceremonial role, which is limited to implementing precisely what the ruling regime orders, without any decision-making power or active role; this means that the government's role is wholly subordinate and limited to serving the regime, with all the main powers being concentrated in the hands of the President of the Republic and the security services. Governance in Syria is wholly decided by the autocratic authority of the ruling family and there is no independent decision-making structure. Rather, the government is an empty façade there for show; the Minister of Interior receives orders from the security branches over which he nominally presides which are in reality under the command of the President, while the Minister of Justice cannot summon a civilian-level security agent other than the head of a security branch; the security branches, along with the president, are the true power and the governing regime in Syria.

This report draws upon the constant daily monitoring of news and developments by SNHR's team, and on information from our extensive network of various sources that has been built up over the course of our work since 2011. The SNHR also provides a special form that can be completed by victims' relatives with victims' names and personal information so that the Victims Documentation Department can follow up on the information provided, verify its accuracy and then include it in the database.

We note that the death toll of victims detailed on SNHR's database includes extrajudicial killings by the controlling forces which occurred as a violation of either international human rights law or international humanitarian law or both, but does not include cases of natural deaths or those which occurred because of disputes between members of society or other such issues.

Our investigations confirm that all of the attacks included in this report that were carried out by the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria targeted civilian areas where we documented no military presence or armories before or during the attacks. Also, the perpetrators of the attacks failed to issue any warnings to civilians prior to any of the attacks as required by international humanitarian law.

This report only represents the bare minimum of the actual severity and magnitude of the violations that occurred. Also, it doesn't include any analysis of the profound social, economic, and psychological ramifications.

II. The Syrian Regime Has Failed to Register Hundreds of Thousands of Citizens It Killed Since March 2011 in the Death Records of the Civil Registry

Although hundreds of thousands of Syrian citizens have been killed, 'disappeared' or gone missing since the early days of the popular rising in March 2011, they have not been officially registered as dead within the competent official state departments, namely the Civil Registry Department. The Syrian regime brutally controls the issuance of death certificates, which are not made available to any of the families of its victims, whether they were killed at the hands of the Syrian regime or by other parties, or to the families of the missing and forcibly disappeared. The Syrian regime only allows death certificates to be issued for those who meet the narrow criteria set by the regime and its security services. In many previous reports, we have discussed the phenomenon of the Syrian regime's forcing victims' families to make false statements blackmailing them into signing reports prepared by the security services stating that 'armed terrorist gangs', rather than the Syrian regime, killed their loved ones by withholding death certificates until they sign these false statements. The Syrian regime has not only failed to launch any judicial investigations into the causes of death for hundreds of thousands of Syrians but has also failed to hold to account even one member of its security or military forces for their involvement in these killings.

In order to obtain a death certificate, the Syrian regime relies on three things:

- The regime prepares a medical report in which it gives a false cause of death, such as a heart attack for those forcibly disappeared in its detention centers, or claims falsely that the victim died as a result of injuries from war munitions.
- Statements from the local neighborhood headman or 'Mukhtar' and from any witnesses, who are asked to confirm the death.
- Acknowledgement of the victims' families, who often urgently need to obtain a death certificate; for this reason, family members understandably feel they have no choice but to remain silent about the true cause of death and those responsible for it.

Through our exhaustive monitoring and investigation process, we have been able to document three methods used by the Syrian regime to register the deaths of a limited number of its victims who were killed, or forcibly disappeared then subsequently killed, which we detailed in a report we issued on August 19, 2022, entitled 'The Syrian Regime, Through Its Security Services and State Institutions, Controls the Incidents of Registering the Deaths of Victims Killed/'Disappeared' in the Armed Conflict Since March 2011'.

It is worth noting that the vast majority of victims' families are unable to obtain death certificates from the Syrian regime, for fear of linking their name with that of a person who was detained by the regime and killed under torture, which implies that they were a dissident who opposed the Syrian regime, or of their loved one had been registered as a 'terrorist' if they were wanted by the security services. Additionally, many victims' families have been forcibly displaced outside the areas controlled by the Syrian regime.

On August 10, 2022, the Minister of Justice in the Syrian regime government issued Circular No. 22 specifying the procedures for the conduct of proceedings related to registering deaths at Sharia courts. The circular included new conditions stipulating that five items of evidence must be submitted to and approved by the relevant judges in proceedings related to registering the death. It also requires that all relevant courts involved in death registration cases comply with the circular's content. The circular also imposed security clearance on judicial authorities to register death cases, increasing the security services' intrusion. We issued a report in which we analyzed the constitutional and legal violations contained in this circular's text and the consequences thereof.

III. Brief on the Most Notable Deaths in October

October saw the lowest monthly death toll since beginning of 2022, with SNHR documenting the death of 60 civilians, including 10 children, and five women throughout the month. In the course of our daily monitoring, we noticed that October's death toll was marked by:

1- We recorded the premeditated assassination of a media activist who was killed along with his pregnant wife and unborn child. The assassination was carried out by Ferqat al-Hamza, an armed opposition faction.

2- We documented the killing of five civilians - two children and three women - amid clashes between armed opposition factions and HTS, after the latter launched an offensive to take over territories under the control of the armed opposition. The offensive was launched from multiple points in HTS's territories in the suburbs of Idlib governorate. Subsequently, the clashes extended to encompass a wide area of the northern suburbs of Aleppo. We released a statement on the matter, on October 18.

Meanwhile, Syrian regime forces killed seven civilians, including one child, and three victims who died due to torture.

On Thursday, October 6, 2022, Ahmad Abdul Qader Hejazi was killed, while other civilians were wounded, in bombing by Syrian regime forces who fired a missile at a lumberyard where they were working. The lumberyard is located near al-Zaytouna village in the Jabal al-Turkman area, north of Latakia governorate. The area was under the joint control of armed opposition factions/Syrian National Army forces and the HTS at the time of the incident.

On Monday, October 10, 2022, a 17-year-old boy named Mahmoud al-Jasim was killed while his mother was wounded in artillery bombardment by Syrian regime forces when they fired a shell at the town of al-Abzemou in the western suburbs of Aleppo governorate. The shell landed near a wedding hall south of the town. The area was under the joint control of armed opposition factions/Syrian National Army forces and the HTS at the time of the incident.

On Tuesday, October 11, 2022, Ahmad Mohammad Ali, from Bza'a city in eastern Aleppo governorate who worked as a bus driver, was killed in stray gunfire amid clashes that broke out near al-Bab city, eastern suburbs of Aleppo governorate, between two Syrian National Army faction - al-Failaq al-Thaileth and Ferqat al-Hamza.

On Wednesday, October 12, 2022, a woman named Fatima Mahmoud al-Abd, from Rasm al-Abd village in east of Idlib governorate, was killed while some of her family members were wounded in artillery bombardment by HTS forces who fired multiple shells at al-Meyah IDP camp (where the woman resided), located in Burj Abdallo village, to the southeast of Afrin city, northern suburbs of Aleppo governorate. The bombardment was part of an HTS offensive, as the group's forces were trying to carry out raids in the villages to provide support for Ferqat al-Hamza and Ferqat al-Sultan Suleiman Shah, two Syrian National Army factions, that were battling al-Failaq al-Thalith, another Syrian National Army faction.

On Thursday, October 13, 2022, a child named Karam Ali Mohammad, from Qarzihal village which is administratively affiliated with Afrin city in northern Aleppo governorate, died of wounds he sustained on October 12, 2022, amid clashes between Ferqat al-Hamza and Ferqat al-Sultan Suleiman Shah, two factions of the Syrian National Army, and HTS against al-Failaq al-Thalith, another Syrian National Army faction. The clashes took place in the village of Qarzihal.

Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) personnel killed five civilians, including one victim who died due to torture.

On Thursday, October 6, 2022, two civilians, a father and his son, were killed in an artillery bombardment by SDF personnel who fired three shells at an area on the riverbank of the Euphrates River near Jarablos city, in the eastern suburbs of Aleppo governorate. One of the shells hit the car that was occupied by the two civilians, killing both and severely damaging the vehicle. The area was under the control of armed opposition factions/Syrian National Army forces at the time of the incident.

We recorded the death of 39 civilians, including seven children and two women, who were killed by parties we have been unable to identify. Of these, 22 civilians were killed by gunmen that we have been unable to identify. Most of the killings carried out by 'other parties' were documented in Daraa governorate with 33% of these cases, followed by Aleppo governorate with 23%, and Deir Ez-Zour with 20%. Additionally, five other civilians, including two children, were killed by landmines this month, raising 2022's death toll from landmines to 117 civilians, including 61 children and nine women.

On Saturday, October 1, 2022, a landmine, whose source is so far unknown, exploded in agricultural land located in the vicinity of al-Jabin village in Hama governorate. The landmine killed a 17-year-old boy named Samer Ahmad al-Mekhlef al-Kwailid, from Sarha village in east of Hama governorate. Samer's brother was also wounded by the same explosion. The area was under the control of Syrian regime forces at the time of the incident.

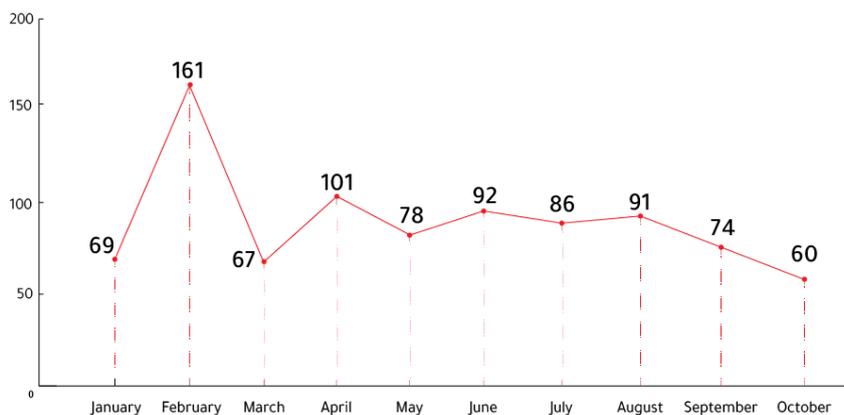

On Tuesday, October 4, 2022, Jarid Melhan al-Rahil, a 46-year-old man from al-Mazra'a village in west of al-Suwayda governorate, was shot dead by gunmen who we have so far been unable to identify, in al-Mleiha al-Gharbiya town, in the east of Daraa governorate. The area was under the control of Syrian regime forces at the time of the incident.

On Monday, October 17, 2022, an IED exploded near al-Sayida Khadija Mosque in western Talbisa city. The IED, whose source has not so far been identified, was planted under the car occupied by 66-year-old Ahmad Mohammad Rahhal from Talbisa city in northern Homs governorate, where he was the head of the Talbisa Municipality, with the explosion killing him immediately. The area was under the control of Syrian regime forces at the time of the incident.

IV. Death Toll of Civilian Victims

In October, SNHR documented the deaths of 60 civilians, including 10 children and five women (adult female) at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria, raising the documented civilian death toll since the beginning of 2022 to 879 civilians.

The documented death toll of civilian victims killed at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria since the beginning of 2022 is distributed as follows:

October saw the lowest death toll since the beginning of 2022, with the month's fatalities accounting for seven percent of the total number of civilians killed in 2022 (at the time of this writing). February remains the month with the highest death toll recorded to date in 2022, with that month accounting for 18% of the total number of civilians killed in 2022.

The death toll we documented in October 2022 is distributed according to the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces as follows:

A. The main parties:

- Syrian regime forces (army, security, local militias, and Shiite foreign militias):

We documented the death of seven civilians, including one child.

- ISIS:

We document the death of one civilian.

- Armed opposition factions:

We documented the death of seven civilians, including two children and two women.

- SDF:

We documented the death of five civilians.

B. Other parties:

We documented the death of 39 civilians, including seven children and two women at the hands of other parties, distributed as follows:

- Landmines whose source we have been unable to identify: five civilians, including two children.
- Gunfire whose source we have been unable to identify: 11 civilians, including one child and two women.
- Bombings whose perpetrators we have been unable to identify: one civilian.
- Killings by parties we have been unable to identify: 11 civilians, including three children.

The death toll of civilian victims killed at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces documented in October 2022 is distributed across Syrian governorates as follows:

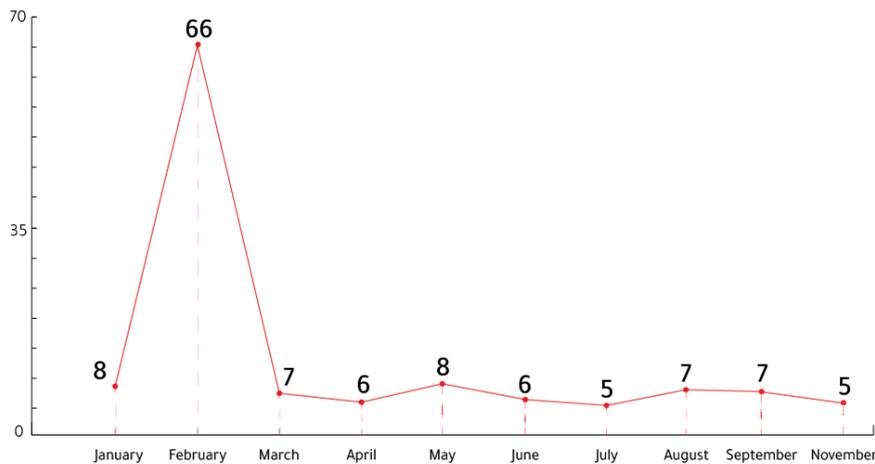

Aleppo governorate saw the highest death toll of victims documented in October, accounting for approximately 33% of the total monthly death toll, followed by Daraa with approximately 23%, then Deir Ez-Zour with approximately 18%. Most of the victims in all governorates were killed by 'other parties'.

V. Death Toll of Victims Who Died Due to Torture, and Victims Amongst Media, Medical and Civil Defense Personnel

A. Death toll of victims who died due to torture

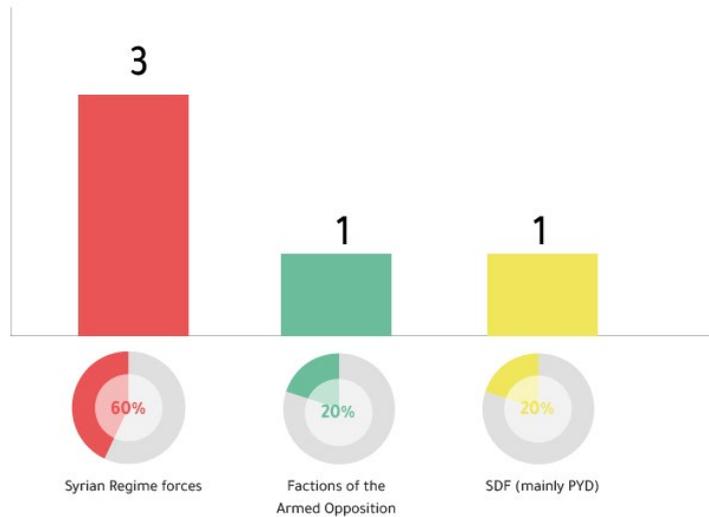

In October 2022, SNHR documented the deaths of seven victims due to torture at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria, increasing the death toll of victims documented as dying due to torture at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria to 125 since the start of 2022.

As documented by SNHR, deaths due to torture at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria since the start of 2022 are distributed as follows:

The percentage of the victims documented as having died due to torture at the hands of Syrian regime forces in 2022 is approximately 92%, compared to the total number of other victims documented as having died due to torture at the hands of all parties to the conflict and the controlling forces. February saw the highest number of victims who died due to torture since the beginning of 2022, accounting for approximately 55% of the total to date. In other words, more than half of the victims documented as dying due to torture so far in 2022 died in February.

As documented by SNHR, the death toll of victims who died due to torture at the hands of the parties to the conflict and the controlling forces in Syria in October is distributed as follows:

A- Main parties:

Syrian regime forces: Three

Armed opposition factions/National Army: One

SDF: One

The most notable cases are:

Jasim Mohammad Khattab al-Bdiwi, aged 48 from Abu Hamam town, eastern suburbs of Deir Ez-Zour governorate, was arrested by SDF forces on Saturday, October 8, 2022, in a raid on his home in Raqqa city. He was taken to a detention center in Raqqa city. On Tuesday, October 11, 2022, SDF personnel informed his family of his death and delivered his dead body to them. SNHR can confirm that Jasim was in good health at the time of his arrest, which makes it highly likely that he died due to torture and medical negligence at an SDF detention center in Raqqa city.

Jasim Mohammad Khattab al-Bdiwi

B. Death toll of medical personnel

SNHR documented the killing of one medical worker at the hands of other parties.

Adnan Hamid al-Tu'ma Kiwan, aged 54, who was known as Abu Ammar, was a nurse and headed the Children's Unit in the Tafas City Hospital in western Daraa governorate. On October 13, 2022, he was shot dead by gunmen we have so far been unable to identify on the road connecting al-Mzayreeb town and Tafas city in west of Daraa. Abu Ammar, who had worked at the makeshift hospitals when Daraa governorate was under the control of the opposition, had obtained a 'settlement card' after Syrian regime forces took over the governorate in July 2018, then worked at a private clinic in al-Mzayreeb town, west of Daraa.

Adnan Hamid Kiwan, nurse

C. Death toll of media workers

SNHR documented the killing of one media worker at the hands of the armed opposition factions/National Army

On Friday, October 7, 2022, gunmen opened fire at a motorcycle ridden by a media activist, Mohammad Abdullatif, known as Abu Ghanoum, and his pregnant wife, near an area known as Dawwar Furn al-Majles, or Dawwar al-Marouha, on the eastern outskirts of al-Bab city, eastern suburbs of Aleppo. Mohammad, his wife, and their unborn child died immediately. Mohammad, a well-know local activist who came from Bza'a city in the eastern suburbs of Aleppo governorate, had been living in al-Bab city.

Mohammad Abdullatif Abu Ghanoum

On Monday, October 10, 2022, security officers from al-Failaq al-Thalith, a Syrian National Army faction, pursued and captured individuals suspected to have been involved in the assassination of Mohammad Abu Ghanoum. Subsequently, Ferqat al-Hamza, another Syrian National Army faction, confirmed, in a statement released on October 10, 2022, that the cell which carried out the assassination of "Mohammad Abu Ghanoum" and his wife is affiliated with that faction. Ferqat al-Hamza announced in the same statement that it would sever ties with anyone who should be proven to be involved in this crime.

D. Death toll of Civil Defense personnel

SNHR did not document any deaths among Civil Defense personnel in October 2022.

VI. Record of Most Notable Massacres

SNHR did not document any massacres in October.

VII. The Most Notable Work Carried Out by SNHR on the Extrajudicial Killing Issue

Since 2011, SNHR has been developing complex program to archive and categorize the victims' data, which the team collects and verifies, enabling us to catalogue the victims according to their gender, age, the date and place of death, method of killing, type of weapon used, and perpetrator party, and to make comparisons between these parties. We can also distribute the death toll according to the governorate in which the incident of death occurred, and according to the governorate from which the victim originated, in order to show the extent of the loss suffered by the people of that governorate, enabling us to accurately ascertain the highest rates of violence documented in the case of each violation. SNHR's Victim Documentation Department team constantly updates the network's comprehensive database, with all the data added to the SNHR's database being retained securely, and several backup copies being stored in different locations.

Since 2011, we have also been exceptionally concerned with the documentation of incidents involving the killing of children and women; there is hardly any statistic recorded on our database that does not include victims in either category, due to the vulnerability of these groups in the community, and because they give an indication of the rate of targeting of civilians. We later added other civilian groups which have played a key role in the popular uprising and later in the armed conflict, such as media, medical, relief and Civil Defense personnel.

For nearly 11 years, we have issued daily death tolls of victims, as well as daily news reports on killing incidents. We also issue a monthly report detailing the death toll of victims, whose deaths were documented in Syria during the previous month, amongst civilians, as well as of those who died due to torture, in addition to issuing a biannual report and annual report, as well as dozens of other special reports documenting the total death toll or the death toll at the hands of one of the parties to the conflict in particular, in addition to a monthly report and special and periodic reports documenting the massacres committed on Syrian soil.

We have also turned the victims' database into a map and interactive charts accessible on our website, which categorize the victims by governorate, gender, age group, the party responsible for their deaths, and other criteria. There are also charts detailing the death toll of victims killed at the hands of all parties to the conflict, as well as others giving information on specific groups, such as specifically detailing the death toll among women and children victims, with all of these being updated regularly.

SNHR also periodically sends a special form to the United Nations Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions, as well as to the Special Rapporteur on torture, submitting cases of killings on which we were able to document all of the available data, having obtained the consent of each victim's family members before submitting them.

It should be noted that the United Nations has relied on the Syrian Network for Human Rights for all the statistics it has used in its analysis of victims in the conflict, given SNHR's prominent role as one of the most credible sources. The SNHR also has signed a Memorandum of Understanding with Humanitarian Outcomes on contributing to its Aid Worker Security Database (AWSDB) project. The MoU stipulates the establishment of a joint coordination and cooperation mechanism aimed at documenting and archiving violations and violence affecting aid workers. SNHR has also partnered with numerous United Nations bodies, in addition to governments of states, to provide them with statistics from our databases, in order to serve the path of justice, and ultimately to ensure the accountability and prosecution of criminals. SNHR is also used as a trustworthy source by a large number of Arab and international news agencies and many international human rights organizations.

VIII. Conclusions and Recommendations

Conclusions:

- The evidence we collected regarding incidents involving deaths indicates that the attacks documented in this report were deliberately directed against civilians and civilian objects. Syrian-Russian alliance forces have committed various crimes of extrajudicial killings, including fatal torture. Their attacks and indiscriminate bombardment have resulted in the destruction of facilities and buildings. There are reasonable grounds to believe that the war crime of attacking civilians has been committed in many cases.
- A large proportion of Syrians were killed as a result of landmines, and none of the perpetrator forces in the Syrian conflict have revealed maps of the locations where landmines were planted. This indicates total indifference to the lives of civilians, and children in particular.
- The Syrian regime has not only violated international humanitarian law and customary law, but has also breached a number of UN Security Council resolutions, particularly resolution 2139 and resolution 2042 on the release of detainees, as well as resolution 2254, all without any accountability.
- The indiscriminate and disproportionate bombardment carried out by Syrian Democratic Forces is considered a clear violation of international humanitarian law, with the crimes of indiscriminate killing amounting to war crimes.
- The use of remote bombings to target densely populated areas reflects a criminal mindset intent on deliberately inflicting the greatest possible number of deaths, which is a clear contravention of international human rights law and a flagrant violation of the Geneva VI Convention, Articles 27, 31, and 32.
- We documented cases of extrajudicial killings committed by various controlling forces against the populations under their control, which constitute serious violation of international human rights law.

Recommendations:

UN Security Council

- The Security Council should take additional steps following the adoption of Resolution 2254, which clearly demands that all parties should, "...Immediately cease any attacks against civilians and civilian objects as such, including attacks against medical facilities and personnel, and any indiscriminate use of weapons, including through shelling and aerial bombardment."
- The Syrian issue should be referred to the International Criminal Court and all those involved in perpetrating crimes against humanity and war crimes should be held accountable.
- Members of the Security Council must stop using their veto to protect the Syrian regime, which has committed hundreds of thousands of violations over the past ten years, many of which constitute crimes against humanity and war crimes.
- Establish security and peace in Syria and implement the 'Responsibility to Protect' norm (R2P) in order to preserve Syrians' lives, heritage, and cultural artifacts from being destroyed, looted, and ruined.
- Request all relevant United Nations agencies to make greater efforts to provide humanitarian and food aid and medical assistance in areas where the fighting has ceased, and in internally displaced persons' camps, and follow-up with those states that have pledged the necessary contributions.
- Seriously work to achieve a political transition under the Geneva Communiqué and Security Council Resolution No. 2254, to ensure the stability and territorial integrity of Syria, and the dignified and safe return of refugees and IDPs.
- Allocate a significant amount of money for clearing mines left over by the Syrian conflict from the United Nations Mine Action Service, particularly in areas prepared to carry out this task with transparency and integrity.

International Community

- In light of the split within the Security Council and its utter incapability, action should be taken at the national and regional levels to form alliances to support the Syrian people and increase support for relief efforts. Additionally, the principle of universal jurisdiction should be applied in local courts regarding these crimes in order to conduct fair trials for all those who were involved.
- SNHR has repeatedly called for the implementation of the 'Responsibility to Protect' doctrine (R2P) in dozens of studies and reports and as a member of the International Coalition for the Responsibility to Protect (ICR2P) after all political channels through the Arab League's plan and then Mr. Kofi Annan's plan were exhausted, with the Cessation of Hostilities statements and Astana talks that followed proved equally fruitless. Therefore, steps should be taken under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations and the norm of the "Responsibility to Protect" doctrine, which was established by the United Nations General Assembly, should be implemented. The UN Security Council is still hindering the protection of civilians in Syria.

- Refer the situation in Syria to the International Criminal Court, or quickly establish a tribunal dedicated to trying crimes against humanity and war crimes to end the cycle of impunity that has now spanned a decade in Syria.
- Work on fulfilling justice and achieving accountability in Syria through the United Nations General Assembly and the Human Rights Council and to activate the principle of universal jurisdiction.
- Work to launch projects to create maps revealing the locations of landmines and cluster munitions in all Syrian governorates. This would facilitate the process of clearing them and educating the population about their locations.
- Support the political transition process and impose pressure to compel the parties to implement the political transition within a time period of no more than six months so that most of the violations end and millions of displaced people can safely and settled return to their homes.
- Stop any forcible return of Syrian refugees, since the situation in Syria continues to be unsafe, and put pressure to achieve a political transition that would ensure the automatic return of millions of refugees.

Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR)

- The OHCHR should submit a report to the Human Rights Council and other organs of the United Nations on the violations mentioned in this report and previous reports and should shed more light on the issue of the continuing killing in Syria.

Independent International Commission of Inquiry (COI)

- Launch extensive investigations into the cases included in this report and previous reports. SNHR is willing to cooperate and provide further evidence and data.
- Focus on the issue of landmines and cluster munitions within the next report.
- Work on identifying the responsibility of individuals within the Syrian regime who are involved in crimes against humanity and war crimes, publish their names to expose them to international public opinion and end all dealings with them at every political and economic level.

International, Impartial, and Independent Mechanism (IIIM)

- Collect further evidence about the crimes documented in this report, and provide an exchange of experiences with Syrian organizations working in the field of documentation, data collection and analysis.

The United Nations Special Envoy to Syria

- Condemn the perpetrators of these crimes, the massacres, and those who were primarily responsible for dooming the de-escalation agreements.
- Re-sequence the peace process so that it can resume its natural course despite Russia's attempts to divert and distort it, empowering the Constitutional Committee prior to the transitional governing body.
- Call for rapid implementation of democratic political change that restores victims' rights and embodies the principles of transitional justice.
- There is no sense in pursuing any political process in light of the continued bombing of hospitals and UN aid, and the pursuit of a zero-security-military solution by the Syrian regime and its allies, and the UN Envoy must acknowledge this.
- Clearly assign responsibility to the party responsible for the death of the political process, and disclose to the Syrian people the timing of the end of the political transition process.

The Syrian regime

- Stop indiscriminate shelling and targeting of residential areas, hospitals, schools and markets.
- End the acts of torture that have caused the deaths of thousands of Syrian citizens in detention centers.
- Ensure compliance with UN Security Council resolutions and customary humanitarian law.
- Provide detailed maps of the locations where the regime planted landmines, especially in civilian areas or near residential communities.

The Russian regime

- Completely cease the bombing of hospitals, protected objects, and civilian areas, and respect customary international law.
- As a guarantor party in the Astana talks, the Russian regime must stop thwarting de-escalation agreements, and apply pressure on the Syrian regime in order to end all indiscriminate attacks and allow the unconditional passage of humanitarian aid to besieged areas.
- Provide detailed maps of sites where Russian forces have launched cluster munition attacks, issue these to the United Nations and inform the Syrian public about them, thus facilitating the disposal of unexploded ordnance.

The Coalition (US-led coalition and Syrian Democratic Forces)

- The states supporting the SDF should cease all forms of support until the SDF commits itself to complying with the rules of international human rights law and international humanitarian law. This is primarily the responsibility of the supporting states.
- The SDF should form a special committee to investigate incidents of violations committed by SDF forces, disclose the details of their findings and apologize for them, hold those responsible accountable, and compensate the victims and affected.
- Provide detailed maps of the locations where the SDF planted landmines, especially civilian sites or near residential communities.

All Armed Opposition factions/Syrian National Army

- Ensure the protection of civilians in all areas under their control. These forces should also take care to distinguish between civilians and military targets and cease any indiscriminate attacks.
- Launch investigations into the human rights violations that took place, hold those responsible accountable and make the findings of these investigations public for the Syrian people.
- Provide detailed maps of the locations where the Armed Opposition factions/Syrian National Army planted landmines, especially civilian sites or near residential communities.

Humanitarian organizations

- Develop urgent operational plans to secure decent shelter for internally displaced persons, primarily widows and orphans.
- Exert efforts in landmine clearance operations in parallel with relief operations whenever the opportunity arises.

Acknowledgment

We thank all family members and friends of the victims, along with the eyewitnesses and local activists, whose contributions have enriched this report.
